Every voter in Box Butte county can vote for county commissioner.

Judge Sullivan has made a record as supreme judge that certainly entitles him to re-election. He is a man the corporations do not own or control.

It is not the desire of THE HERALD to indulge in personalities in the judicial campaign. It is sufficient to state that Messrs. Westover and Harrington, the fusion candidates, can well stand upon their official records and let the voters of this district decide as to their merits.

Immediately after the republican convention held at Valentine the Alliance Times said:

"Concerning the action of the republican judicial convention we have nothing to say."

What caused the Times editor to change his mind and say something about the republican nominees? Undoubtedly, if Ellis would give the reason it would be interesting reading.

Our Candidates.

The candidates on the fusion ticket for Box Butte county are so well known that it would seem superfluous to speak of their qualifications.

Sam Smyser has proven himself to be a competent and obliging public servant and therefore ought to be re-elected.

Charlie Brennan, candidate for treasurer, is well known in business circles in Alliance and is popular with all classes. He has all the qualifications needed for the office and we expect his election by a large majority.

Ira Reed, thanks to the Times, will receive more votes than any candidate on the ticket. The best proof of Reed's ability as sheriff is the fact that lawlessness has been kept at a minimum during the last two years. It is preferable to prevent crime than to punish it.

Judge Spacht certainly deserves re-election from the voters of the county because of the ability and tact he has displayed in his office as county judge.

J. W. Baumgardner is depending on his record for re-election as county superintendent. Under his supervision the county schools have been raised to a high standard of proficiency. His efforts deserve encouragement.

The knowledge of property values possessed by A. S. Reed, equips him in an exceptional way for the office of county assessor in which an equitable mind and well balanced judgment is required to give a fair deal to all the tax payers of the county. Reed is the right man for this office.

John P. Hazard seeks re-election as county surveyor. He is well known in the county and has had many years experience in that line of work.

Claude Humphrey, candidate for coroner, has been a resident of Alliance for a number of years. He managed the undertaking business for Tom Beck and is now running an establishment for himself. He would fill the office of coroner creditably.

Frank Caha, candidate for commissioner, is well and favorably known throughout the county, having already served one term as commissioner. He has shown his ability in that office for the welfare of the tax payers of the county. He knows the needs of all parts of the county and is deservedly popular. We have no doubt that the voters will show their appreciation by electing him to a second term.
